

Jolana GRAZIOSO II - Garzioso II T

This model is inspired by an electric guitar Grazioso, which was built in former Czechoslovakia in 1955 and subsequently received a gold medal in Brussels EXPO 58. Interestingly, George Harrison played this guitar before The Beatles became famous later on. Current version of Grazioso contains some of the original 1955 design body elements, 1960-headstock design, three pickups and a pearl pick guard. It is also equipped with modern top of the line components made by prestigious world brands which help to create product with high efficiency, compactness, excellent sound and versatility. Grazioso offers wide range of clean sounds well suited for concert halls as well as recording in studios.
